

« Sports legacy and heritage dynamics »

Bordeaux, France, October 29-31st 2018

Round table for the 18th Sports history carrefour (SFHS) and 22nd Conference of the European Committee for the History of Sports (CESH)

As part of the International Congress CESH hosted in Bordeaux, three roundtable discussions were offered by ICOM-ICMAH on topics that allowed historians and attendees to appreciate the heritage and museum dimension of sports.

Participants :

- Jean-Paul Callède, Sociology professor and researcher at the CNRS
- Paul Matharan, curator at the museum of Aquitaine
- Marie Grasse, Director and curator of the National Sports Museum, France (marie.grasse@museedusport.fr)
- Burçak Madran, Chair of ICMAH (burcakmadran@gmail.com)
- Jean-François Loudcher, (Pr.) Professor of social sport history at the University of Bordeaux (jean-francois.loudcher@u-bordeaux.fr)
- Yvan Gastaut, historian specialized in sports and immigration, Associate professor at the University Nice Côte d'Azur (gastaut@unice.fr)

Themes:

Round table 1 : Sports, need of a particular museography ?

- Collect, exhibit, curate, create interest...
- Sports, a theme that renews or broadens the concept of heritage
- Sports facing their audience: potentials and strategies

Table ronde 2 : Colonial heritage in sports

Table ronde 3 : Towards a virtual European sports museum ?

- Archive project
- What international training programs are available in the historical and social sciences of sport?